

News / India / Two days after sick leave, first woman director of IIM-C resigns amid conflict with board

Two days after sick leave, first woman director of IIM-C resigns amid conflict with board

The resignation of Anju Seth comes two days after she went on sick leave, and almost a month after the IIM-C Board of Governors (BoG) clipped her powers.

Suryagni Roy

Kolkata March 22, 2021 UPDATED: March 22, 2021 12:07 IST

FACT CHECK

Anju Seth and the board accused each other of trying to snub the other party.

Odisha: College campus in Bhubaneswar sealed after 23 students test positive for Covid-19

Dripping with promise

Governors (BoG) clipped her powers.

It started last year when both Anju Seth and the board accused each other of trying to snub the other party.

Anju Seth had accused Chairman Shrikrishna Kulkarni of eating into her executive powers and the board had accused Seth of improper conduct.

In December, a section of the IIM-Calcutta faculty wrote a letter to the Ministry of Education where they alleged that Anju Seth had centralised powers and infringed the decision-making role of the board.

Anju Seth, who was appointed as the first woman head of IIM-Calcutta in November 2018, had gone on a sick leave putting Prashant Mishra, Dean (New Initiatives and External Relations) in charge as the acting director of IIM-Calcutta.

Seth's term was to end in February 2022. She is an alumna of IIM-Calcutta 1978 batch.

Get Newspresso, our morning newsletter

 I agree to receive newsletters

SUBSCR

Posted by Sanchari Chatterjee

POST A COMMENT

Taboola Feed

Don't play this game if you are under 40 years old

Vikings: Free Game | Sponsored

Salary > ₹7 Lakh p.a? Check Eligibility For 1Cr Term Cover.

Odisha: College campus in Bhubaneswar sealed after 23 students test positive for Covid-19

Dripping with promise

