SIBASHIS MAHAPATRA

As the Co-editor of MBAEx Business Review, I'm proud to present the 6th edition which captures diverse insights from the brilliant cohort of the 18th batch of MBAEx, IIM Calcutta, along with enriching perspectives of esteemed professors and alumni of the program.

The Magazine isn't just about the business world but takes the reader through the memory lane of the current batch of the MBAEx program.

In these pages, we explore the horizons of change—charting the course through waters of sustainability, digital evolution, and human-centric leadership. The journey is as much about rediscovering purpose as it is about embracing technology. It is a dance between preserving legacy and reimagining futures.

As the Class of 2025 pens these narratives, we offer more than mere reflections — we extend invitations. Invitations to challenge norms, reframe strategies, and embrace the unknown with courage and conviction. After all, transformation is not a destination; it is a perpetual journey—one navigated best with open minds and bold hearts.
